GETTING TO KNOW US AT ROBINSON PAINTS

Since 1995, I've been in the painting business. I started out painting houses in my local area, right here on the Eastside of Seattle and as word got around, the business grew from a one man operation to the large scale team of contractors that makes up Robinson Paints today. It has taken quite a long time and a heck of a lot of work but it fills me with pride every time I pass by one of the beautiful properties that we've had the chance to work on.

PRESIDENT/OWNER

Every star on the map represents a house or new neighborhood of houses that we have been painting over the past 12 months

At Robinson Paints, we don't just repaint houses, we have also been working alongside national home building companies for many years (see below). During that time, we have played an integral role in the construction process, helping these builders add the finishing touches to their newly-designed, recently-built homes.
